CONNECT

The world's first universal platform for police records and IT personnel.

A member's only law enforcement records center of excellence! The institute provides a universal platform for standardized performance, learning opportunities, information sharing, and research. We offer the resources needed by police records and IT professionals through our network of members and online resources.

Why Join?

Being a member of the IIPRM means you and your agency are dedicated to the advancement of the law enforcement records management field and to the proper handling of police and public records through technology and sound management practices.
