Law Enforcement Records Management Cohort Program

HOST: Titusville Police Department

DATE: April 25-26, 2019 8am-4pm

WHERE: 1100 John Glenn Boulevard, Titusville FL 32780

Who should attend: records personnel, administrative staff

Required: laptop computer

While at its core is a two-day workshop, this is an ongoing program where attending scholars will become part of a peer group who will serve to support, mentor and advise each other on an ongoing basis in the development and implementation of a customized model police records management plan for your agency.

During the workshop, moderated by PRI, you and your group will develop an actionable plan to bring back to your agency and the skills needed to get it approved and implemented, guided by the 4 pillars of a model police records operation: 1) sound business process 2) people's performance 3) legal compliance and 4) modern technology.

Utilizing an online system, your groups will maintain contact, share ideas, provide feedback, network and develop career-long relationships. In addition to the practical education this program provides, the connections you make will be even more valuable.

The plan you'll develop will include the strategies, risks, policy & training requirements for:

- + Developing and tracking real-time key performance indicators (KPI)
- + Annual compliance with retention schedules across the agency
- + Effective policy governing report writing, public records, report corrections
- + Selecting the right systems for managing records and data
- + Standardizing and maximizing the use of CAD/RMS
- + Developing performance expectations and standards

You will learn the skills to:

- + Obtain buy-in and effectively communicate your vision clearly and concisely
- + Deal effectively with difficult employees and supervisors
- + Demonstrate leadership skills for cross-generational staff
- + Draft professional, management-level plans and staff reports
