The management and dissemination of BWC recordings is a rather, albeit unnecessarily, contentious issue in public safety. Whether or not the video shall be released according to the law is one matter while the decision to voluntarily release it is another. These issues are often conflated with the preservation of videos as "evidence" - a separate matter altogether from public records law.

In this 2 day course, in-depth practical information including legal requirements and best practices combined with a hands-on policy development exercise will be provided by subject matter experts from law enforcement. Topics include:

- + BWC agency Philosophy, Policy, Privacy and Procedure
- + The 3 consumers of video: the agency, the courts, and the public
- + Transparency: why have body-worn cameras?
- + Public records/FOIA laws
- + Developing policy: activation/de-activation, categorization, retention, notifications, release

See what others have said about our training...

"Records management seminar is a must for anyone who deals with records--very informative class, and extremely knowledgeable instructor. Send your employees--it's worth every penny."

Sunrise Police Dept.

"We thoroughly enjoyed the style and presentation of this class. It was easy to understand and the instructor made the class entertaining. Never a dull moment."

"The class was great. We just want to thank you for all the information. I have been to other trainings, but I can say this training has been the best I've ever been to."

University of the Pacific Police Dept.

"The seminar was outstanding, I hope to make some changes here in my department with some of what I have taken away from this class."
